Your rights and responsibilities

We will listen to you and work with you. By working together, you will receive the best service possible.

You have rights: to be treated well, to participate fully, and to speak out.

If we forget this, or treat you badly, you have the right to complain.

This brochure also explains how you can help us give you a good service.

This information is taken from the Client Rights and Responsibilities Policy and Procedure. If you wish to read the entire policy, we are happy to provide a copy. Just ask us.

TO BE TREATED WELL

- We will treat you with respect and dignity.
- We will treat you fairly and speak honestly.
- We will protect your personal information and only use it for the right reasons.
- We will provide good quality services that suit your needs, age, lifestyle and cultural background.

TO PARTICIPATE

- You have the right to a safe and comfortable place to use the service.
- You have the right to make choices and decisions about the services you receive.
- You have the right to the information you need to make good choices.
- You have the right to have someone help you make the best choices — an advocate or support person.
- You have the right to get help accessing services in the community.

TO SPEAK OUT

- You have the right to complain about the service.
- You have the right to a reply as quickly as possible.
- If you are still not happy, you have the right to complain again, or talk with the NDIS Commission.

Your responsibilities

YOU CAN HELP

By working together, you will receive the best service possible. Here is how you can help.

WORKING WITH US

- Update your contact information as it changes.
- Keep your appointments — or let us know if you can't.
- Choose someone to help you make decisions — an advocate, friend or family member.
- Give us honest feedback about our services.

RESPECTING OTHERS

- Treat other people with fairness, honesty and respect.
- Respect other people's right to a safe and comfortable environment.
- Respect other people's right to privacy and confidentiality.

If we don't respect your rights, tell us

You can talk to us first. If you are still not happy, you can contact the NDIS Commission, or ask an advocate to help you.
